IRISH STATE IS HOLDING FIRST FREE ELECTION

Polling Is Light With An Absence Of Disorders;

APATHY PUZZLING
State of New Constitution Hangs Upon Result of Today's Election

DUBLIN, June 16—The Irish Free state is engaged today in the double task of conducting its first free election and scrutinizing the new Irish constitution, granting Ireland more political liberty than any other British dominion.

Early polling was light and no serious disorders had been reported up to noon. Eamonn DeValera was absent from home, but members of the Irish republican brotherhood announced that they were planning a fight against Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith, indicating that the followers of DeValera will make a fight against the mended constitution. On the whole, however, the situation seems entirely satisfactory.

If the moderates are given control of the Free State parliament it will be victory for the treaty and constitution, if the Republicans are given control it will be a defeat of the treaty and constitution.

The Republicans frankly announce that they will attempt to abolish the ath of allegiance to the British Empire if they get a working membership in the Dail Eireann. If DeValera is defeated he may again resort to militant methods. There is much speculation as to whether DeValera will likely secure one of the non-parliamentary memberships in the cabinet. Under his constitution this would limit his power. The apathy of the people was difficult to understand in view of the

CITY OFFICIALS SET FORTH ADVANTAGES OF PARKING RULES

A disposition on the part of the Coshocton Business Men's Association to make an effort toward the repeal of the new city ordinance regulating automobile parking on Main-st every Saturday, is responsible for a further explanation of the ordinance by Victor Johnson, city safety-service director, and Dr. W. R. Davis, president of council, Thursday.

At a meeting of the business men Tuesday evening, the ordinance was discussed and the business men decided to make a remonstrance on it.

It seems that out of town customers have been complaining to the merchants of the ruling, and in one instance that was cited, a customer returned with the goods he had purchased, and asked for his money back, because his car had been tagged during the time he was making his purchase.

It was explained Thursday that the ordinance had been passed among other reasons, for the benefit of out of town customers. It was believed that by prohibiting parking in one space longer than an hour, more parking spaces would be available to out of town customers who came here to shop.

The ordinance was passed principally to keep Main-st traffic in a condition that would permit a run of the city fire department trucks at any time. With the street packed with slowly moving vehicles fire hazards to Main-st business houses were great on Saturdays, the safety director says.

The ordinance prohibits the parking of cars longer than one hour on Saturday, between Fourth and Sixth-st on the south side of Main-st and Third and Sixth-st on the north side, between the hours of one and nine p.
m. but so far the ordinance has only been enforced from six to eight o'clock in the evening.

Unless the traffic becomes worse,
the safety director assures auto drivers that the rule will be enforced only at those hours. The purpose of the ordinance was to break up the heavy traffic on Main-st Saturdays, thereby lessening the danger of collisions, as well as fire hazards.

It had become a practice of city auto owners to park their car on Main-st in the afternoon and leave it there until late at night. It was hoped to break up this practice by the ordinance, also.

The ordinance was not meant to inconvenience anyone, but to facilitate the movement of vehicles on Main-st.
It was pointed out.

CONSERVATIVES AND RADICALS CLASH IN LABOR'S CONVENTION

Universal Union Label Proposition, Dubbed An Outgrowth Of "One Big Union" Idea Loses In Committee And On Floor Of American Federation Convention At Cincinnati—Rail Strike In July Is Now Considered Certain

ADMIRAL KATO IS NEW

Admiral Kato, new Japanese Premier.

CONVENTION HALL, Cincinnati, June 16—Conservative and radical elements in organized labor clashed today in the American Federation of Labor convention over a universal union label branded by the conservatives as an offspring of the "One Big Union" idea.

Sharp verbal conflict was finally ended by action of President Samuel Gompers in demanding a vote on the committee on label's report of non-concurrence in the universal union label resolution. The report was adopted and the proposal was defeated.

While proceedings lagged the convention condoned the loss of members by death and recessed to await an address by Hanford MacNider, commander of The American Legion.

Labor, represented in the American Federation of Labor convention here, today accepted as inevitable, a strike of union railway employees some time in July, Doubt, which has existed among many delegates in convention attendance, today stood brushed aside by this declaration and the assertion that a strike appears the only means of combating the railroad labor board's wage cuts of over $100,000,000.

Already railroad workers threaten the country have speeded up the casting of the strike vote. Early returns indicate an overwhelming majority in favor of the strike. B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of The American Federation of Labor and other rail union heads stand authority for that statement.

MT. EVEREST CLIMBERS 2,000 FEET FROM TOP

Oxygen for Mt. Everest climb.

Members of the Mt. Everest climbing party in Tibet have ascended 26,800 feet without the use of oxygen and were only 2,200 feet under the summit when they established a depot and went back to their advance base, preparatory to another dash, when oxygen will be used. Their climb of 26,800 feet was the highest in the history of the world, the former record having been 24,533 feet, made by the Duke of the Abruzzi in 1910.

VILLAGE MARSHAL WARNS NELLIE'S MAYOR NELLIE TO PEN UP HER CHICKENS

For the second and last time, Marshal Robert Burch of Nellie has told Mayor Nellie Moore to keep her chickens in her own back yard, he said. The council recently passed an ordinance to have the citizens to keep their chickens in their own yards and keep them from over-running other people's property.

Marshal Burch created a laugh at the last meeting of the village council when he reported that the mayor had been disobeying the law.

HARDING SCORES POINT IN HOUSE ON SHIP SUBSIDY

WASHINGTON, June 16—The house merchant marine committee this afternoon voted to make a favorable report to the house on the administration's ship subsidy bill, thereby complying with the demand of President Harding for prompt action on the legislation.

In the form finally agreed upon by the committee for presentation to the house, the ship subsidy bill, will contain no provision prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor on vessels operated by the United States shipping board.

The committee flatly rejected the amendment of Representative Bankhead, Democrat of Alabama, to bar ships which carried liquor from the benefits of the subsidy and Representative Edmonds, of Pennsylvania, temporarily withdrew his amendment imposing penalties on such ships which brot liquor within the three mile limit.

Edmonds announced subsequently that his "honesty" amendment would be redrafted and introduced in the house as a separate bill. In its redrafted form, the Edmonds bill would not permit ships, upon which liquor was sold during the voyage to enter an American port.

In the event Representative Bankhead offers his rejected amendment as a separate bill, Edmonds said he would offer his "honesty" bill as a substitute.

PRIEST SHOWS NO FEELING AT TRIAL

MONTREAL, Que., June 16.—The case of Henri Landru, the "French Bluebeard" was cited in court here today when the trial of Father Adelard Delorme for the murder of his half brother was continued.

Dr. Derome, physician attached to the morgue, testified that while the defendant may be pretending insanity he believes that the prisoner's lack of animation is a sign of mental aberration. "We have had such a case before us," said Justice Monet. "In Paris, when Landru was put thru the ordeal he showed no emotion whatever. Yet he was found guilty and paid the penalty."

MILLERSBURG SCHOOL CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for Millersburg's new school building has been awarded to the Samuel Small & Sons Co., of Mansfield at their bid of $129,568. The Krause Heating and Plumbing Co., of Akron has been awarded the job of heating and plumbing for $29,742. The electric wiring goes to Shepher Brothers of Defiance for $1,325.

There are certain notions to be figured off the bid for the building that will bring the total down to about $145,000.

TARIFF IS BLAMED

WASHINGTON, June 16—A bitter struggle between Republican senators today appeared to be the inevitable outcome of the refusal of Chairman McCumber, of the senate finance committee, to accede to the expressed desire of President Harding that the tariff not be displaced for the soldiers' bonus.

Even administration spokesmen conceded that before the expected fight was over the president's party leadership and his ability to influence the senate majority to carry out his wishes would probably be put to a severe test.

Some administration leaders threatened openly if McCumber persisted in carrying out his plan to sidetrack the tariff, and force the passage of a bonus bill, the president is strongly inclined to voice whatever bonus legislation was finally submitted to him for his approval.

Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, was among the supporters of McCumber on the Republican side who predicted the motion McCumber planned to make Monday to set aside the tariff for the bonus would be adopted by a substantial majority, and the passage of the bonus would be certain to follow.

Other Republican senators who favor the bonus declared they were not taking seriously the threat of a filibuster emanating from some of their colleagues. They pointed out a number of the bonus foes are too desirous for the enactment of the tariff to permit it to be delayed indefinitely by protracted discussion of the bonus.

While it was considered likely Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and other administration leaders would experience little difficulty in controlling a majority of the Republican side at a caucus of its membership Monday, the bonus advocates declared, while a number of Republican senators might vote to sustain the president, it was highly improbable they would stand up against the bonus on (Continued on Page Nine)

LAND OWNERS START LITIGATION AGAINST PAVING ASSESSMENTS

Three petitions, making a total of nine of the same nature now pending in the common pleas court, were filed Friday morning for the reduction of assessments made by the county commissioners on property owners residing within a mile radius of the improved inter-county highway south of Coshocton.

The three suits filed Friday were filed by plaintiffs residing on the east side of the Muskingum river and across the river from the improved road for which they are assessed.

John Lapp, owning 48 acres in Franklin-p, says the commissioners have endeavored to assess his property in the amount of $274.45. David Lapp, owning two tracts of land containing 157.75 and 74.05 acres respectively, says a total assessment of $227.62 has been placed against him.

Charles Zimmer of Franklin-p states that he owns 66.9 acres and has been assessed $620.08. A part payment of $146.81 has been made by Zimmer under protest according to his petition, while the other two men have paid nothing.

All three claim to be a distance of five miles from a bridge crossing the river to the improved highway, and say their property is not benefited by the improvement.

T. H. Wheeler and the firm of Pomeroene & Pomerene represent the three plaintiffs.

Delay in the construction of the new Wills Creek bridge seemed a possibility Friday, when John Frew, county surveyor, signified his intention of refusing to approve the plans and estimate for the bridge, unless the Columbus Sheet Metal Co. which was awarded the contract for the construction of the bridge, makes good on its promise to get the state highway department's approval of the plans.

Frew believes the county commissioners erred in their choice of a bridge. He states that a better bridge weighing more than 33 tons more, could have been purchased for $100 less.

In support of his belief he presents the following facts:

Bids on a bridge 161 by 16 feet were called for by the commissioners. When the bids were opened the competition narrowed down to four companies, bidding on the same style of bridge.

The Columbus Sheet Metal Co. offered a bridge weighing 151,200 pounds at a price of $8,500. The Champion Bridge Co. bid on a bridge weighing 124,610 pounds for $8,736. Two other bids were the Standard Engineering Co., 236,169 pounds, for $9,546 and the Capitol Construction Co., 229,660, for $8,490.

The difference in weight, Frew explains, lies in the amount of steel used. With the exception of the Standard Engineering Co., all bids were on floors of three inch creosoted wood blocks, laid on a sub-floor of creosoted three-inch planks. The one company bid on four-inch wood blocks. All of the floors weighed in the neighborhood of 70,000 (Continued on Page Nine)

HEALTH DEPARTMENT GIVES ADVICE ABOUT CONTROL OF MAD DOG

Health Commissioner D. M. Criswell has received a message from the state department of health concerning the treatment of dog bites and rabies and the proper methods of handling dogs that have bitten human beings.

It was pointed out that rabies is no more of a hot weather disease than it is a cold weather disease, and that summer heat, "dog days," and the "dog star" have nothing to do with its incidence. Isolation of a dog that is suspected of rabies is the first step urged by the department of health.

Observation for a week or ten days should develop symptomatic evidence and on this showing the head should be cut off packed in ice and shipped at once to the department laboratory. Prompt cauterization of wounds caused by dog bites is the first step in the prevention of rabies, and if there is ground for suspicion of the disease, pasteur treatment should be begun at once.

CITY TO REQUEST RAILROAD TO PAY FOR WATER TAKEN

The Pennsylvania railroad company will be asked to pay for city water which has been used by its engines without permission, recently, Victor Johnson, city safety-service director said Thursday.

The engines are supposed to be filled from the Pennsy reservoir at Conesville. Instead, it seems that recently they have been filled in Coshocton by attaching a fire hose to a water main at the Pennsy freight station, and running it outside to the engine tank.

The tanks have a great capacity for water, and in this manner considerable water has been taken from the city supply, without a proper return.

Hoover Charges Some Operators Violated Prices Agreement

WASHINGTON, June 15—Faced with threats of a senate investigation unless he finds a way to keep coal prices from skyrocketing, Secretary of Commerce Hoover went into conference today with operators and retailers to make another effort to prevent profiteering during the strike.

Hoover's principal complaint is that operators in some districts are not holding to maximum prices agreed on early conferences and that higher prices in some parts of the country have resulted in criticism of the entire coal industry. He will endeavor to arrange a price fixing agreement, agreeable to all producing districts, which the operators are to adhere to voluntarily.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsated coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and gentle), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two tea-spoons will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsated coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

OPEN FORUM BEGINS AT LABOR MEETING; IN DELEGATES HANDS

CONVENTION HALL, Cincinnati, June 16—The period of uncertainty for organized labor's future policies, unity and political program arrived today. There will be no set program of procedure beginning today for the American Federation of Labor's convention and labor leaders look for a rising to the surface of the factional bubbles of discontent before many more days of convention sessions pass.

Trouble lies in many of the veritable flood of resolutions already before the convention, leaders believe. Some, particularly those demanding the federation's approval of the One Big Union idea, the recognition of the Soviet Russian government and various attempts to straighten out interior, local union disputes, seem with dangerous possibilities, it is said. Leaders say they "are filled with dynamite."

Favorable action is expected by leaders on United States Senator La Follette's suggestion made during denunciation of the supreme court that a constitutional amendment be sought to enable congress to override decisions of the country's highest court declaring any act unconstitutional.

With the turning of the convention doings over into the hands of the delegates, leaders expect some federation political developments. There is a freely expressed opposition to Secretary Frank Morrison and Treasurer Daniel J. Tobin. Railroad leaders want a place in the executive council and would sacrifice either one or both to obtain the coveted position.

So far there is no candidate against President Samuel Gompers for that position.

"So far as I know," said a high official of the federation today, "not even the greatest labor sage could accurately predict what the convention will do. It is an open forum. Resolutions can come and go and everyone in the convention may express his ideas about anything."

"There may be trouble and there may not."

RESTAURANT OWNERS PLEDGE TO LOWER PRICES FOR MEALS

CINCINNATI, June 16—Prediction that restaurant prices for meals will drop at least 15 per cent within the next year was made here this morning by Edward E. Bender, Canton restaurant owner, before the convention of the Ohio state restaurant association.

The statement was made in connection with the framing of a resolution to be adopted by the association pledging "to make every effort to lower the cost of living in Ohio during the coming year." The resolution will be adopted during the convention.

The restaurant owners attending the sessions declared themselves to be heartily in sympathy with a movement to lower prices throughout the state.

PASTOR LEAVES WIFE AND NINE CHILDREN TO ELOPE WITH GIRL

'Lord's Will,' He Tells Wife,
When Caught Caressing
Music Teacher

DAYTON, June 16—No trace of Rev. Walter Culp, 35, pastor of the Spring Valley M. E. church and Miss Esther Hughes, 18, the village music teacher, has been found since they were seen driving from Spring Valley in the pastor's automobile Wednesday morning at 2 A. M.

Mrs. Culp and her nine children, two of whom are twins of only six months, will be cared for by the people of the village, until more definite arrangements can be made.

Mrs. Culp told a long story of the infatuation of the girl for the man, who is old enough to be her father. She saw them caressing each other in her own home and when she remonstrated they told her it was "the Lord's will."

Members of the church profess to have suspected nothing. Mrs. Culp says the girl came to Spring Valley from Greenville some time ago to teach music. The infatuation, she says, began when her husband was a Menomonee preacher at a church near Greenville. He also did paperhanging as a side line during the time he lived in Greenville.

Dr. W. A. Want, superintendent of the Springfield district of the church, emphasized the fact that Culp was not an ordained M. E. minister but was merely supplying the pulpit at Spring Valley. He regrets the affair and said, "Culp should be 'skinned alive.'"

Mrs. Culp expressed a willingness to live and forget if her husband returns to her, as she is left entirely at the mercies of the world. Her children are all bright and intelligent but too young to supply the family larder. She contemplates returning to her old home at Wakarusa, Ind., when she gets enough money to move.

BURNS WILL SUCCEED MORAN AS MANAGER OF REDS, IS REPORT

NEW YORK, June 16—Pat Moran to step carefully out, George Burns to step modestly in, as manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

That is the report left in the wake of the Reds as they fled out of the city beautiful after dropping four straight to the Giants. It began some days ago with what was alleged to be an inside tip from the Red business administration, and since then has accumulated authenticity as a vest accumulates soap stains.

It is now accepted as something in the nature of a certified fact.

If Moran is deposed it will not come as a stunning surprise to many familiar with the Garry Hiemann system of scene shifting around the Cincinnati ball park. They demand a winner out there and change managers as often as they fail to get the desired effect, which might be said to be somewhat frequently.

Moran gave them a world's champ in 1919 but from the Cincinnati viewpoint, the past is dead, long live the future.

It is said that they feel there is little future for the Reds with Moran at the head of the ball club. Pat, with all his managerial virtues, is something of a one-year manager. He succeeded Charley Doolin as pilot of the Phillies in 1913 and steered a derelict team to its first National League pennant. That was fine business. But with stronger clubs to work with, he failed to repeat in 1916 and 1917 and the following year, his last in Philadelphia, he finished in the second division. It was then that they sang him Tosti's Goodbye with variations.

RUTLAND, June 16—Owners of cherry trees hereabouts who some years ago planted mulberry trees about their orchards are now reaping the benefits. They have proven beyond doubt the birds love the mulberries the best because they bear at the same time as the cherries and the cherries are not bothered at all.

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy contentment. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman can be happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues."

We are continually publishing in this paper letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and other medicines have failed to help them. If you are ill why not give it a trial.

FLUSHING, June 16—Virgil Utterbach, 19, is in a critical condition in a Wheeling hospital as a result of a most peculiar accident here. Young Utterbach and Alfred Bethel drove an ambulance which carried a Bannock gun accident victim to a Martins Ferry hospital. On their return they placed what they thought was a bucket of water on a stove to heat it, preparatory to washing their hands. Unknown to them, gasoline had been left in the bucket after it had been used in filling a tank in a garage. The liquid exploded, burning Utterbach all over his body. He leaped thru a window and cut his arms so badly that a blood transfusion was necessary. He was taken to another hospital in the ambulance he had been driving a short time before.

GIRL'S BROTHER TO SEEK NEW CHANCE TO AVENGE DEATH

JACKSON, Mich., June 16—Harold Mallet, brother of the Jackson welfare worker, who fell a victim to a pervert's axe last Thursday night, was to start for his Oregon ranch with the body today, balked last night a second time in his effort to get vengeance on George Straub, the confessed slayer, but content to await a new opportunity. Mallet led an automobile party of 500 would-be lynchmen in a thrilling ride to Lansing late last night but consented to abandon the lynching attempt when Col. Roy C. Vandercreek, of the state department of public safety halted the motor caravan five miles from its destination and urged its members to return home.

Mallet abandoned the chase conditionally. His request that he be allowed to see the confessed murderer of his sister, "so he would know him when they met again," was granted. The party continued its course and Mallet and four others spent half an hour in the Lansing city jail under the vigilant eyes of a hundred heavily armed police and state troopers massed against an expected assault. Then the erstwhile mob returned to Jackson in accordance with its pledge to Col. Vandercreek.

All day yesterday there were rumors in Jackson that citizens would follow up the lynching attempt which deputies blocked here Tuesday night by spiriting Straub out of town, with a second effort carefully planned in advance. Everywhere was voiced the regret that Tuesday night's mob before the jail neglected to block the alley at the rear from which the confessed slayer was carried, half dead with fear, to a waiting automobile.

WEEKS SAYS NATION IS DRIFTING TOWARD SOCIAL DEMOCRACY

CLEVELAND, June 16—In an address here before Cleveland university students, Secretary of War Weeks, decried the "drift of this country towards social democracy" and advised those who would take a vigorous part in the national political life of the nation against endorsing a principle merely because it is "popular."

After condemning the popular pri-maries system Secretary Weeks said in part:

"It was necessary for our government to involve nearly five millions of men in preparation and actual combat. Many billions of dollars were required to carry on our military operations. We had to undertake these enormous operations in great haste. They resulted naturally in some profiting, some inequalities, some men being excused from service who should have served, possibly some graft on the part of public officials, but we may hold our heads high in the feeling that the extent of graft has been proved to be so slight that we may be justly proud that our country did so well under the conditions which prevailed."

Akron Mail Men May Avoid Dogs

Mail brought back to the postoffice because of this fact will be endorsed "vicious dog" and will be held at the general delivery window until called for, Sparks said.

RUSS HOPE TO RECOVER THRU OWN STRENGTH

MOSCOW, June 16—Russia has little hope of getting a big loan from the powers at The Hague, but she has already entered into negotiations with the Standard Oil Co., and Anglo-Dutch Oil interests for concessions thru which she hopes to benefit financially, it was learned today from officials of the Soviet.

Karl Radek, former Russian envoy to Germany, in discussing the outlook said:

"Russia can recover thru her own strength and without outside help. It is this idea that animates us as the conference starts at The Hague. The idea that we can secure loans from the allied governments is all wrong. The only possible way we can get what we want is from private sources. It is recognized that the private capitalists will not grant credits to Russia until they have ceased to fear the lack of security in our country. It will require time to re-establish ourselves as a first class debtor nation."

The application was taken under advisement.

EDITOR GRIEVED OVER EDUCATION'S DIVORCE OF RELIGION, HE SAYS

COLUMBUS, June 16—Assertion that a period has been reached in which education may be said to have rebelled against being employed as a hand maiden of religion was made today by Nolan R. Best, Chicago, editor of The Continent, delivering the Diamond Jubilee commencement address here to the 56 members of the graduating class of Otterbein College. The commencement marked the opening of a campaign to raise an endowment of $2,000,000 with which to extend the activities of the college. The Rockefeller and Carnegie institutes have promised to contribute $400,000 of this amount.

"The union of the powers of education and religion for the fashioning of Christian manhood and the development of Christian society is quite as necessary today as ever before," continued Mr. Best, who was graduated from Otterbein, 20 years ago. "Never before in this country was there such an unanimous voice as that which today expresses the universal American sense of perils overhanging the American state and American society which can only be averted if the leaders of the nation are imbued with a fundamental sense of responsibility to God for righteousness between man and man and the honest upkeeping of the commandments of God," declared Mr. Best.

The Supreme Wage Cut

LEADERS of 1,200,000 railway workers whose wages have been ordered cut by the Railway Labor Board or are under consideration for reductions are to make a formal appeal to President Harding over the heads of the board to stave off further reductions of pay. The total sum to be lopped off the income of the 400,000 shop crafts and 500 maintenance of way men is calculated at $110,000,000. The labor spokesmen will demand of the President whether he thinks their curtailed wages will be sufficient "to maintain an American standard of living and properly sustain a family."

The Railway Labor Board is the President's eyes and ears, his delegated intelligence and judgment of railway wage matters. It is hard to imagine, then, how or on what basis he might interfere with its deliberations or decisions. The most he could do would be to implant in it a fear of hereafter passing independent judgment where it might appear to be politically inexpedient.

The President and his fellow Republicans in Congress could, however, prevent reductions in the pay of railway and other workers and consumers if they would deny contemplated increases in the profits of large industrial interests which have dictated the schedules of the McCumber tariff bill. The shrinkage in the wages of railway men becomes inconsequential in comparison with the "invisible tax" which it is intended to levy on all workers and other consumers for the benefit and under the detailed direction of special interests constituting what Elliott Thurston, a special correspondent in Washington, calls the "superlobby."

According to estimates of experts for the Senate minority the wool interests will be able to gouge American consumers under the McCumber schedules to the tune of $310,000,000 a year; the Silk Trust can shake us down for $274,000,000, and the cotton barons can collect an additional $750,000,000! It is estimated that the total booty collectible under this, unprecedented tariff grab will equal the entire revenue of the Government, which runs to several billions. What, compared with these vast sums, is a loss of $110,000,000 in wages?

High wages are a delusion and a spurious currency when their purchasing power is reduced by high prices. The President has no moral option to interfere with an official wage-fixing tribunal. He is responsible, as head of his party, for legislation that makes a joke out of any talk about maintaining the American "standard of living." Not only should the railway unions petition him to prevent this actual cut in their wages, but every other organization of workers and consumers in America should join them.

There is no danger at present of a European invasion of American markets. Imports the past year have fallen off rather than increased. Talk of the need of high protective duties in staple manufactured articles is pure humbug. Such protection would be nothing but a cut in the wage or salary of every consumer in America.

"A Swinish Rush"

AMERICANS naively are a little sensitive when charged by their European cousins with being tawdry and sensational. Yet the charge somehow persists and there is no gainsaying the truth, there are indisputable grounds upon which to base it.

Just now our press is furnishing the basis for the charge. Metropolitan papers are boasting loudly in the market place of the fabulous sums they have paid to secure the rights to the 80,000 and more words the former German Emperor has written about himself and in justification of his war insanity. Just why all this unbecoming self-praise at being the highest bidder for a lot of Hohenzollern clap-trap is inexplicable. The stuff they have bot will have little or no historical value. This is true both from the viewpoint of accuracy and bias. The former kaiser had no opportunity to compile accurate data as the world war progressed, so the records that he has relied upon since are the work of others. And so far as an unprejudiced account of the war is concerned, who is there to say it could be furnished by this poltroon who fled his country as soon as the tide of battle turned against him?

The New York Call, in Thursday's issue sizes the situation up insofar as the papers which are now indulging in such unseemly self-adulation are concerned, in its true light. Of these papers The Call observes:

"If the braggart and bully who formerly wore the imperial crown of Germany had any sense of humor, how he would laugh at the hysterical energy displayed by the publishers of America and Europe in securing the rights of the 80,000 words which he has written in justification of his career."

"Unfortunately, this murderous fool has always lacked any sense of proportion. The battle for his book, ending in its going to the highest bidder, who paid a sum greater for it than could be earned by an honest worker if he lived as long as the fabled Methuselah, will only result in feeding the immense vanity of this barbarian."

"The New York Times flatly heads the list of the papers in America which will publish this stuff. In 1913, when The Call was telling the truth about the Kaiser and his murder machine, the Times, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his reign, literally licked his boots in its columns."

"Not satisfied with its own bootlicking, it gathered together all the most prominent bootlickers in the country, headed by Nicholas Murray Butler, and printed columns of sycophantic tribute to a monarch who should have been confined to a madhouse years before to protect the world from his murderous activities."

"When this country was driven into the war by the profiteers the Times and other sheets of the same character, who had been praising the Kaiser, were compelled to make a quick about-face and condemned as viciously as they had praised. Cowards as they have always been, they howled in their columns, hoping thus to make the public forget how they had fulsomely praised the man they were then engaged in damning. And it worked."

"Now they have a chance to cash in on him again. And the ex-Kaiser is to talk to millions of readers in the pages of papers which refuse to print the words of champions of liberty, and which in their editorial columns abuse the few men and women who have dared to stand against all the viciousness that the Kaiser in Germany and the kaisers in this country are responsible for.

"The Times calls the race for the right to print this stuff 'A Dramatic Contest.' In reality it was a swinish rush for swill, and those who got to the hog-trough first lapped it up. What a world! What a world!"

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 16—Thots while strolling around New York. The matinee hour. Idle thrills to pleasure. Charles Cherry in pongee. No ham-boos canes this season. The blooming of lacy summer frocks. And mushroom parasols. Each like haughty macaws.

Hook-nosed ticket speculators calling from their pavement butches. Tea rooms jopped up with partitions, like roulette wheels. Touring buses filled with lunch boxes and peevish waiters. Ornamental apartments. Outfront fronts. Break interiors. And grinning West Indian hall boys.

A street blocked off for a movie scene. Pseudo gypsies dancing to the pulse of castanets. Of course, somebody has to get shot. Always a band or something on the library steps. The first horse drawn dray I've seen in years. Bare foot newslers. Wonder if city boys got stone bruises. Another restaurant tries a sidewalk cafe. All before have failed. An Arab wearing a silk turban. The peaceful little garden of Madison Avenue. Children skipping the rope while nursemaids thrill to novel romances. The home of J. P. Morgan. Some two guards on duty.

The gloom of Madison Square Garden. It seems spooky despite its gay posters of boxing festivals, chicken shows and wrestling bouts. Sporty little hotels with Pullman car names clustered all about it. Brentano's. The most fascinating spot in town. Two new automats. Arthur Train, the novelist. The beggars swarm about old Herald Square. A clothing store now occupies the remodeled building. Hawkers selling dollar wrist watches. Fokine, the ballet master. And that'll be all.

Of all the suburbanities the most ridiculous is the one that commuters rush out to their homes each morning with a wild yell to catch the 8-07. Comic weeklies make the suburbanites life one mad rush after another to depots. People who live in New York suburbs so train themselves that they can reach the depot without looking at their watches—at least five minutes ahead of time. And so rapid is the train service that if they miss one they never have to wait more than ten minutes.

When a show opens "cold" on Broadway it means that it has not had a preliminary engagement at one of the three trying out points—Washington, Baltimore and Atlantic City. There is a theatrical superstition about opening "cold." Yet of late the expense of the try outs has resulted in many shows foregoing them. Two of the most successful musical shows, now running, opened "cold." New York audiences like the premier presentation here. It gives them the opportunity of seeing many things that are to be deleted later—in other words more for their money.

Little groups began to clot about a street car on Seventh Avenue. As is the custom bigger crowds gathered. Soon the street was blocked. The rescues came from the nearest police station and two fire alarms were sent in. Work in office buildings had stopped. The cause. A workman was tapping one of the wheels with a hammer.

This is a story told to me by the head of a chain of optical houses in New York. Every salesman in his employ wears glasses. Many of them do not at first but after six weeks they do. He makes no attempt to explain the reason.

Armies Of Wu And Chang Lose Heavily In Furious Battle
PEKING, June 16—A violent battle between the armies of General Wu Pei Fu and General Chang Tso-Lin is raging on the Manchurian frontier, said a despatch from the front today. The casualties are said to be heavy. General Wu Pei Fu is supporting the new Peking government. General Chang is military governor of Manchuria and is an ally of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the South China republic.

To Determine Charge Of Conspiracy Against Ward And His Son
-WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 16—District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks, of Westchester-co., today filed a petition with Supreme Court Justice Mourschauer asking him to sit as a committing magistrate in an investigation to determine whether or not George S. Ward, millionaire president of the Ward Baking Co., and his son Walter S. Ward, alleged confessed slayer of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, are guilty of "conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice."

WALT MASON
WEEK END
Oh, the week end in my cottage makes me feel as fine as silk; here I eat my humble pottage, swimming in denatured milk; now I feel that I'm in clover, and I sing in joyous tones, for the week of toil is over and I've drawn my eighteen bones. Here the week end's always found me since John Barleycorn was canned, with my smiling ants around me, and my grandma pounding sand. Once when I had drawn my wages to the gin bazar I went, and progressed, by old stages, till I didn't have a cent. And my gentle ants were weeping, and my grandma's heart was sore, as their vigils they were keeping, waiting at the cottage door. Ah, the sorrow and the grieving, as they waited there at home, as they watched me homeward weaving, with my whiskers full of foam. Still they say the liquor traffic by some skates is carried on; but my feelings are seraphic, for the old saloon is gone. And the swinging doors, I reckon, won't be swinging for awhile, and the barkeep doesn't booken, with his wide and winning smile. Happiness at last has found me, basking in my Sunday suit, while my seven ants sit round me, and my grandma plays the flute.

TIERED JUROR SLEPT, ATTORNEYS SAY—NEW TRIAL IS DEMANDED
CINCINNATI, June 16 — Declaring that George M. Flora, Eastern Avenue, this city, one of the jurors at the trial of Noble "Red" Holt, gunman sentenced to die in the electric chair for the killing of City Detective Huettlin, slept in the jury box during the hearing of the testimony, attorneys for Holt filed a motion for a new trial today. The attorneys for the convicted slayer charged that they observed Flora sleeping during the trial and that because of this Holt was not tried by a jury of twelve of his peers. They mention that Holt remained awake thruout the trial. Mr. Flora indignantly denied the charge that he slept.

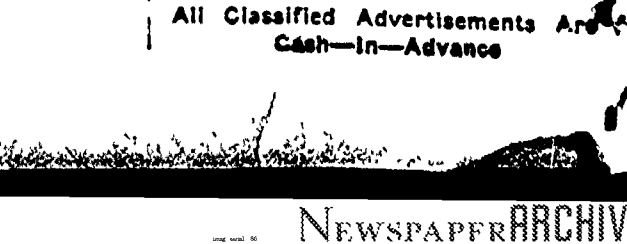

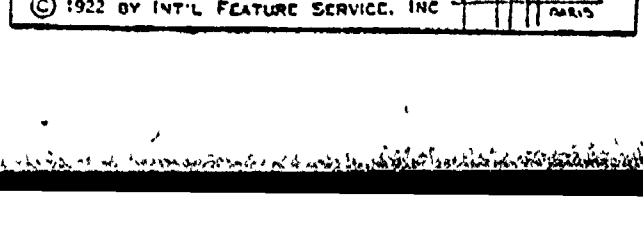

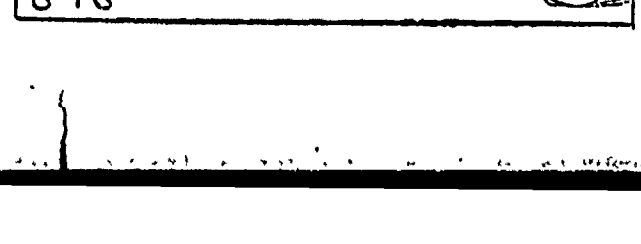

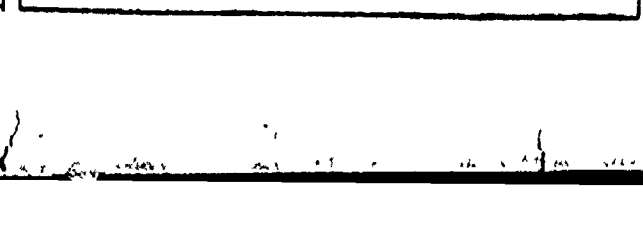

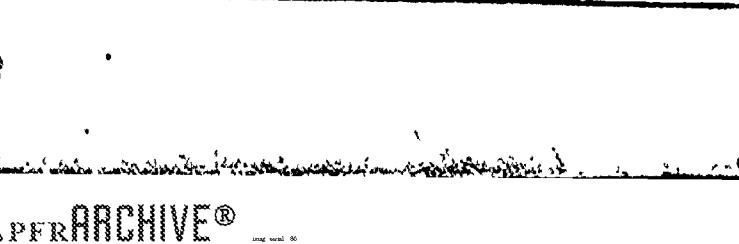

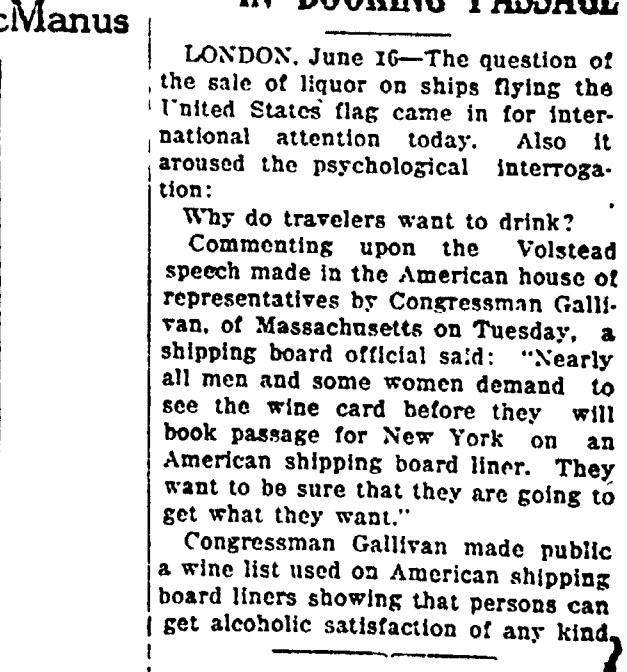

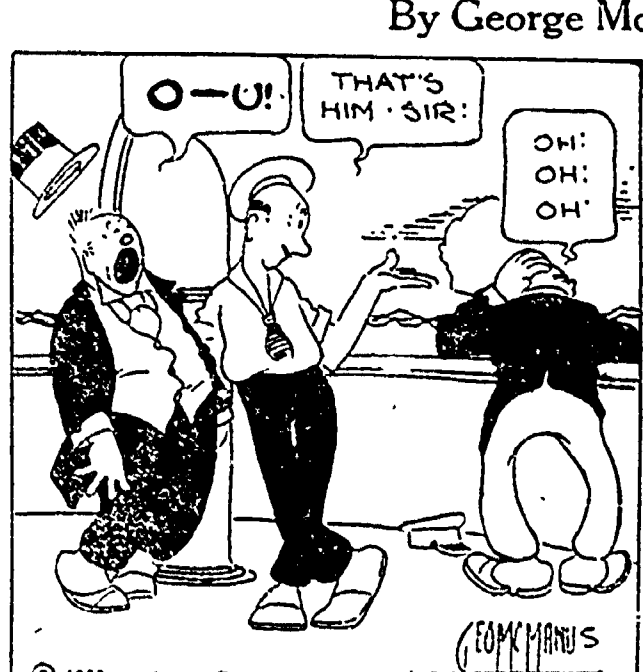

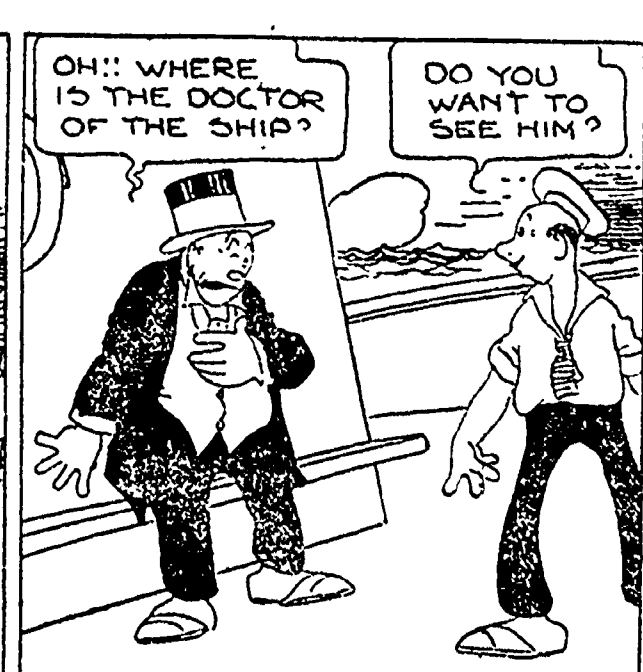

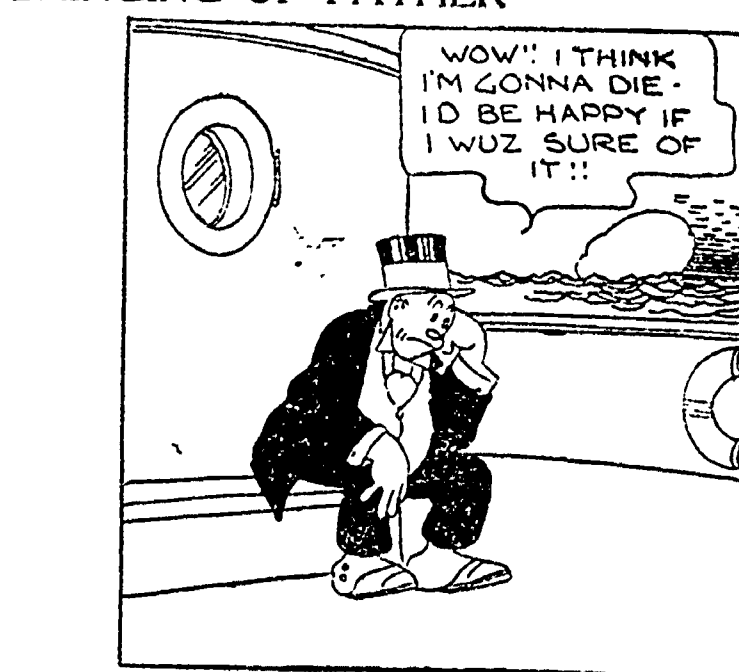

WINE LIST OF SHIPPING BOARD LINERS IS AID IN BOOKING PASSAGE
LONDON, June 16—The question of the sale of liquor on ships flying the United States flag came in for international attention today. Also it aroused the psychological interrogation: Why do travelers want to drink? Commenting upon the Volstead speech made in the American house of representatives by Congressman Gallivan, of Massachusetts on Tuesday, a shipping board official said: "Nearly all men and some women demand to see the wine card before they will book passage for New York on an American shipping board liner. They want to be sure that they are going to get what they want." Congressman Gallivan made public a wine list used on American shipping board liners showing that persons can get alcoholic satisfaction of any kind.

ONE needs more than a man's imagination to visualize the attractive possibilities of this dress of fine cotton crepe in cream color, beaded with rows of yellow beads, and then decorated with yellow, orange, and brown beads.
The waist-line decoration is further enhanced by a drooping brown velvet-ribbon bow. One does not analyze, just admires so pretty a dress; yet, one must realize how the beads with their weight will make the dress more wearable and becoming.

The color variation takes the dress entirely out of the ordinary and the handwork makes it a precious dress to possess. Yet it is as simple as it's attractive, the dress itself being straight in regular night-dress fashion. The side panels of the skirt give soft draperies there. A strip of material is concealed underneath the waistline, to which the fullness is carefully secured, and which makes possible an individually becoming line so frequently desired.

Chapel in Memory of Secretary of State's Daughter to Be Dedicated June 25.

As a memorial to Helen Hughes daughter of the Secretary of State, a memorial chapel will be dedicated on Sunday, June 25th, at Silver Bay,
New York. At the dedication Mrs.
Hughes will represent the family.
Due to official duties it is not yet certain whether Secretary Hughes can be present.

The building for which Mrs. Hughes laid the cornerstone last year, is the gift of her daughter's friends including her Vassar classmates and those with whom she was associated in the Young Women's Christian Association. Dedication services which are to be very simple are chiefly in the hands of the Y. W. C. A. girls at Silver Bay. Mrs. Harry Emerson Foss-dick is chairman of the arrangements.
Upon her graduation from Vassar in 1914 until her resignation in April, 1919, due to the illness which resulted in her death a year later, Miss Hughes was active in the Association.
After her death work in Washington and New York, Miss Hughes joined the staff of the National Board, organizing local student clubs in New York,
New Jersey and New England.

"Helen Hughes was a vivid personality, buoyant and determined to stand on her own feet away from her father's reputation," said Miss Alice Hoyt at the National Board yesterday. "Noting amused or delighted her more than to slip into a town and do her work as simply Helen Hughes and get away, her work completed without the town knowing that she was Secretary Hughes' daughter. She had unusual judgment for age so young, was a mature mind. As a speaker, she was simple, direct and convincing, after making girls' interests her own and immediately winning their loyalty."

Honoring the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Tyson,

LONG ISLAND FIRE DESTROYS HOMES OF 20,000 PEOPLE

NEW YORK, June 16.—Blackened ruins resembling a devastated area on a battle-swept field is all that is left today of three quarters of Arverne, Long Island, one of the largest summer resorts around New York. Flames that swept rapidly thru the heart of the colony last night leveled thirty blocks of bungalows, demolishing about 450 homes and making 20,000 people temporarily homeless. Property damage is estimated at about five millions dollars.

Sensational rescues featured the efforts of firemen from three boroughs to save the residents in the stricken sections. About twenty women were removed to hospitals. None, however, is believed to be seriously injured. The origin of the fire is unknown. Soldiers were ordered to the scene with orders to shoot those who might attempt to loot.

OPPONENTS OF SHIP SUBSIDY AND DRY TO FORM COALITION

WASHINGTON, June 16.—President Harding's long cherished plan for the development of the American Merchant Marine, today was threatened with defeat unless the government takes immediate steps to stop the sale of intoxicating liquor on United States shipping board vessels.

Members of the house who are opposed to the Harding-Lasker ship subsidy bill on general principles prepared to form a coalition with the ardent prohibitionists to put thru an amendment barring ships which carry liquor from the benefits of the subsidy legislation.

Republican leaders plan to block this move by establishing a form of cloture in the house to prevent such an amendment from being considered but it was evident today that Chairman Lasker's policy of selling liquor on government ships is to be attacked so vigorously in both branches of congress that the administration may be forced to alter this policy or to definitely establish its legality thru a new rule by the department of justice pending a decision by the United States Supreme court.

If the Democrats in the house find it impossible to attach the prohibition rider to the ship subsidy bill they hope to stage a fight on that issue which will prevent enactment of the shipping legislation during the present session of congress.

House leaders admit that the exceedingly precarious situation in which the administration's ship subsidy bill has rested for several weeks is even more complicated today because of the charges of Adolphus Busch that the United States is the "biggest bootlegger in the world." Even if the administration should bow to the will of the drys and agree to stop selling liquor on government vessels, shipping authorities declare the development of the merchant marine would be placed in jeopardy because American ships could not compete with British vessels which are permitted to dispense liquor.

The Anti-Saloon League declares this problem could be solved by prohibiting all ships—American or foreign—from carrying intoxicants within the three mile limit. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the league says such prohibition is provided thru recent decision of the supreme court in interpreting the Volstead act.

"The enforcement of the law as recently upheld by the supreme court will destroy most of the discrimination complained of between foreign vessels which could carry liquor and American vessels which could not," Wheeler said today.

"When a foreign ship cannot come within our borders with any beverage liquor on board, American shipping will have a better chance."

Despite all the agitation that has been aroused as the result of the controversy between Adolphus Busch and the government over the sale of the liquor, Republican Leader Mondell and other administration leaders were driving ahead with their plans to get the ship subsidy bill thru the house as early as possible. They have under consideration a plan to call a Republican caucus to get unification of action on the shipping legislation.

Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio and other "dry" leaders today reiterated their demands for a change in the government's liquor selling policy and were expected to carry their fight direct to the white house.

MASONRY OPPOSES THE NIGHT RIDERS

BOSTON, June 16.—Masonry is placed on record as opposed to the Ku Klux Klan in a statement just issued by Arthur D. Prince, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Massachusetts to all the state branches of that order. Prince also issued a warning that the Klan movement is growing. "Let every Mason who is tempted to join the Klan consider well if he can harmonize his obligations as a Mason with the principles of the Klan. The statement reads:

"You have placed in the hands of the Grand Master the honor and the reputation of the Masonic fraternity in Massachusetts and I should fail in my duty if I did not, without fear or favor, warn our membership against a movement, which if not thwarted in its inception, will prove derogatory to the reputation of the craft in a dangerous degree."

Denying that the order is in sympathy with the Klan the statement declares that in jurisdictions where the Klan has been active, grand masters have repudiated its claims in the strongest terms.

ANNIE LAURIE ADVISES LOCAL CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Annie Laurie:

I am a girl of 19 and go with a young man one year my senior. I love him dearly and he has asked me to be engaged. I am now asking in another town. I met a young man here who says he loves me dearly and wants me to marry him. He shows his love more than the one from my own town, but I don't like him as well.

My parents object to my going with the first young man. I am often unhappy, because I know if I marry him my mother would be very angry and yet I don't feel that I will find anybody I like as well as him.

Please advise me which would be the best thing to do, marry the young man or be unhappy, myself.

P. P. J.

Coshocton, P. P. J.

Do not marry a man you don't love, my dear. That would be sure to mean unhappiness.

Have an affectionate talk with your mother. Tell her how much you love the young man who lives in your home town, and perhaps she will consent to your becoming engaged to him. But do not marry him without your parents' consent.

ANNIE LAURIE.

A deputation of labor union men that was trying to interview the Portuguese governor general were fired upon and three were killed. On May 23, a Portuguese gunboat arrived at Macao. CHICAGO, June 16.—Henry C. Blaine, drug clerk, was stabbed to death early today in a street car on the south side during a quarrel with an unidentified negro. The quarrel ensued when Blaine accidentally stepped on the negro's foot, according to other passengers. Altho Blaine apologized, the negro became angry and attacked him with the knife, passengers said. The negro leaped from the car and fled. Crowds of whites congregated in the district after the stabbing and policemen were assigned as a precautionary measure against any attempt to avenge Blaine's death.

Blaine was married, and his wife, who is in a hospital with a ten-day-old baby, has not been told of his death.

FILIPINOS DEMAND INDEPENDENCE FOR FAR AWAY ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Declaring that the Filipino people have "fulfilled their part in the covenant with America," a commission headed by Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, today presented to President Harding a demand for "immediate, complete and absolute" independence for the Philippine Islands.

"The people of the Philippines yearn to see the fulfillment of their aspirations for national existence," he said.

"We come in full expectation that America cannot now refuse specific realization of those purposes and ideals which found eloquent expression in her spokesmen, both in times of war and in times of peaceful reconstruction."

The commission filed a statement at the white house expressing good will and friendship for the people of the United States and informed the president that it was charged to resume the negotiations for the independence of the Philippines begun by the mission sent here in 1919.

The Wood's-Forbes report on conditions in the Philippines was declared by Quezon to be "unwarrantably severe and critical."

He asserted that "stable government" exists in the islands and entered into an exhaustive discussion of governmental and social questions to prove that present conditions in the Philippines even as alleged in the Wood's-Forbes report, compare favorably with those existing in many nations whose right to national sovereignty is not open to least question.

"The Filipino people firmly believe," the mission told the president, "that the time has come when this ques-

DROWNED WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED AS WIFE OF MANSFIELD MAN

DEFIANCE, June 16.—Efforts are being made by officials today to locate Thomas Miller, formerly of Mansfield, believed to be at Rutland, Pa. Miller's presence is desired for the purpose of verifying the official belief that the badly decomposed body of a woman, found in the Maumee River at Otsego Rapids, Wood-co, last night, is that of his wife, who disappeared from their Mansfield home some months ago.

In quest of his wife, dead or alive, Miller came here last December and identified clothing, found with a suicide note on the river bank, as having been worn by Mrs. Miller. Clothing on the lifeless body found at Otsego Rapids last night, tallies exactly with the description given by Miller concerning the clothing worn by his wife when she disappeared. In an old cloth bag tied around the woman's neck was found $136 in paper money. Miller said he gave Mrs. Miller $130 about a week before she left home.

Because of the extreme state of decomposition, the body was buried temporarily at Tontogany.

CONFERENCE TO END STRIKE PREDICTED WITHIN TWO WEEKS

CLEVELAND, June 16.—There will be a joint meeting of miners and operators within the next two weeks, at which steps will be taken to end the coal strike in the bituminous fields," a leading operator, who asked that his name be not used, told International News Service.

"Operators in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are seeing their markets taken by non-union operators, and our entire northwestern coal trade will be ruined for this year unless the end of the strike comes soon."

Herman Denies Moran Must Go

CINCINNATI, June 16.—August Hermann, president of The Cincinnati baseball club, denied today that the directors contemplated any change in the management of the club and asserted that all were "more than pleased" with the managerial regime of Pat Moran.

"Manager Moran's contract has still a year and a half to run and even if we did contemplate a change we would not make it now," Garry said. "But a change of managers has not even been thought of, both Moran and Burns are esteemed by the directors, but we never even thought of Burns in the role of manager. The rumor must have originated from a rival club."

Sport Chatter

The Cardinals stepped jauntily into second place in the National League standing by winning an uphill game against the Dodgers, 1 to 3. Stock's homer with Fournier aboard in the ninth tied the score and Hornsby drove in the winning run with a double.

Strange as it may seem, Mails failed to deliver against the Red Sox and the Indians dropped the second game of the series, 5 to 3.

The Reds finished second for the fifth time in succession when, with George Smith pitching shut-out ball, the Phils coasted into a 7 to 0 victory.

The Browns moved along to within a half game of the league leaders by beating the Senators 3 to 2. Mogridge had the Browns beaten until the eighth, when with Sisler on, McManus' drive to left hit the ground and, taking a freak bound, hopped over the fence for a homer.

A double and a triple by George Kelly, accounting for three runs, gave the Giants a 2 to 1 decision over the venerable Babe Adams of Pittsburgh.

When Messrs. Falk and Johnson allowed Dykes' popfly to fall safe under the head of unfinished business, they set the stage for Mauser, a pinch hitter, to drive in the winning runs for the Athletics with a single in the ninth.

The Tigers came from behind and beat the Yanks for the second time in succession, 2 to 1. Stoner and Dauss holding the champions to four hits.

Lenine Better

LONDON, June 16.—More conflicting reports regarding the state of Nicolai Lenine's health were received here today.

A despatch from Moscow said: "Lenine has improved in health and within the past day or two has been able to read and criticize new books. His wife has obtained leave of absence from the department of education in Moscow and has gone to the Lenine country home to nurse her husband."

DO YOU GET UP NIGHTS ON ACCOUNT OF BLADDER?

This Symptom Tells You Something Is Wrong. A Dayton Man's Experience.

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The sealding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came, until at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out and helps to relieve the bladder of abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula over a dozen expensive drugs, which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for back ache, sealding, scanty or high colored urine and treatment desire at night.

Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at Smith Drug and Book Store, Wimmer Arnold Co., J. M. Robertson, Siegrist and Williams and drug store everywhere, or write the Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

AGATHONS WIN BY TWO RUN MARGIN OVER COSHOCTON

Massillon Professionals Let Regulars Down Easy at Red Sea Thursday

The Massillon Agathons gave a fairly good exhibition of their ability Thursday evening at Red Sea baseball park when they defeated the Coshocton Regulars by a score of 7 to 3.

The fans knew, as well as the Regulars themselves, that the Agathons were a much faster aggregation than the locals, but the Regulars had fought in 'em and tried to make things look even.

The Agathons scored two runs in their first time at bat. The Coshocton team made four runs and five hits in the first inning off Pitcher Herman, who was tossing straight balls over the plate so the Regulars could connect.

Every batter on the team with the exception of McCluskey connected for a hit. Cobb, Herman and Schultz were the only Agathons to go hitless. Gill was the chief batter of the evening. He got five hits out of five trials and three of that number were two baggers. Each team got fourteen hits.

Pitcher Herman in the first inning was relieved by Pitcher Schultz, a left hander. Schultz lobbed the balls over the pan with ease but had better luck in getting the locals out than Herman. DeChambeau pitched for the Regulars and hurled a fairly good contest.

He struck out five Agathons. Pitcher Lowdermilk, former major and minor league pitcher and at one time with the Cleveland Indians was with the Agathons last evening. He was warming up back of the autos on the first base line. Manager Textor told some of the fans that he would have let Lowdermilk pitch and let the fans see him work out had the big been feeling well. Lowdermilk has been ill for the past several days.

The Regulars cross bats with the Cambridge nine on the Red Sea diamond Sunday afternoon.

A big crowd witnessed the game last evening.

SHIPPING BOARD

VESSELS WILL BE DRIED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The administration's ship subsidy bill will pass the house with a provision prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on vessels operated by the United States shipping board, according to all indications today.

Illian leaders of the house were prepared to surrender to the prohibition members, who are making this demand in exchange for their votes in favor of the bill.

President Harding is insistent that the bill be passed immediately and eleventh hour pleas of house leaders that action be deferred until next winter failed to change his purpose.

House leaders believe that assent to the demand of the prohibitionists insure passage of the legislation by the house, while refusal to assent spells defeat for the bill. The combination against the bill now consists of Democrats and Republicans opposed to ship subsidy and rampant prohibitionists willing to support a subsidy for "dry" ships.

Poincare Endorsed

GREEN COMMENDS A. F. L. FOR PLEDGE TO SUPPORT MINERS

CINCINNATI, June 16.—The American Federation of Labor yesterday in convention pledged organized labor's support to the coal miners now on strike. William Green, of Coshocton, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, commending the convention for its action, portrayed the miner's side of the great industrial battle in the coal fields and asserted "we propose to fight and fight valiantly and we will fight until we win."

"We would rather fight and lose than give in to the coal operators' unfair demands," he added. Green, pictured for the convention conditions which he declared as prevalent among the miners in West Virginia and declared that "the coal miners are fighting the fight of organized labor."

Indicating that the coal miners intend to "fight to the last ditch," Green hinted that in the long struggle, "we may have to come to our sister unions for something more substantial than you have given us this morning."

The senate floor, once McCumber succeeded in forcing the issue there. It was understood while McCumber probably would attend the caucus which in itself promised to lead to a lively row, he would not be bound by it. Administration leaders said however that there was no intention to make the caucus binding on any one of the Republican side but merely to provide the Republican side with an opportunity to thresh out its various differences of opinion respecting both the tariff and the bonus behind closed doors. Some Republican leaders expressed the hope if McCumber found himself greatly outvoted at the caucus he might be persuaded to abandon or defer his plan but McCumber himself declared unqualifiedly he was going ahead with his plan no matter who was opposed to it.

political agitations that have disturbed the country for years. Some political leaders estimated that not more than fifty per cent of the electorate would vote. The independents hoped to take 12 seats away from the DeValera adherents in the Dail, but the situation was complicated and much depended upon amount of military pressure exerted in the Tipperary and Mayo districts.

The Freeman's Journal and The Irish Independent today welcomed the constitution and urged the election of men who support it.

An unusually large number of women voted. The women seemed to take a greater interest in the election than the men. The publication of the text of the constitution is believed to have helped the independents.

LONDON, June 16—The Irish constitution grants such extensive powers to the Irish Free State that some parts of it were hailed today as "an experiment in socialism."

A gasp of surprise went up from the entire nation when the document was made public for it proposes reforms and grants a degree of democracy exceeding anything ever before attempted in British dominions.

Nominally Great Britain will retain control of Ireland. The press for the most part gave a cordial welcome to the document, altho the Tory "die hard" newspapers question whether Ireland will live up to the spirit of the instrument. Those who hailed parts of the constitution as an experiment in socialism referred to the initiative and referendum, state control of Irish natural resources and kindred matters. Parliament will take up the constitution in the autumn after the Dail Eirann at Dublin has ratified it.

It is learned authoritatively that Premier Lloyd George is not overly optimistic, expecting Eamonn DeValera to make a strenuous effort to amend the constitution so as to reject the oath of allegiance.

pounds. The market value of fabricated steel is $4 a hundred pounds, making a cash difference of over $3,000 in the value of the bridges bid on by the Columbus Sheet Metal Co. and the Capitol Construction Co. in favor of the latter, altho its bid was $100 lower.

Frew says he favored the plans submitted by the Standard Engineering Co. and the Capitol Construction Co. as far as specifications were concerned but that the price of the former was too high. He therefore favored the latter.

When the choice of a bridge came before the commissioners, the auditor and the surveyor, the contract was awarded the Columbus Sheet Metal Co. This choice was made in spite of his objections to the light weight of the bridge, Frew declared.

Frew says the representative of the Capitol Construction Co. assured the county officials that his bridge would meet with the approval of the state highway department.

All of the plans submitted were for bridges that will hold a fifteen-ton load, Frew declares, but the life of the bridge lies in the elasticity of the steel supports. Rust is an important factor to be taken into consideration, especially in this county, according to Frew, and bridges should be built with a generous surplus of steel.

By purchasing the bridge offered by the Capitol Construction Co., the county would have had a bridge of much longer life, Frew believes. The bridge would weigh 75,000 pounds more than the one contracted for, and would cost $100 less, he says.

Frew declared Thursday he would not approve the plans and estimates for the bridge but, until the contractor had made good his promise to get the approval of the state highway department for the bridge, and he believes this impossible.

ment in the country take the admitted position that there can be no peace while the railroad labor board is operative. Decision to strike is entirely in the hands of the 2,000,000 railroad workers. Another week and it is expected tabulation of the strike vote will begin. There is no doubt among rail union leaders that the vote will demand a strike.

Dissolution of the railroad labor board and restoration of wages to the level before the recent slashes were made might prove to be the only alternative of averting a tie-up, leaders assert.

While union officials have declared they are maintaining a "hands off" policy, so far as influencing the coming vote is concerned, this is their publicly admitted stand.

"The railroad board has made a blunder so serious as to threaten the welfare of hundreds of thousands of railway employees and their families. We must act to correct this blunder before society suffers from the results. We will, therefore, sanction a strike in case the required majority of our membership vote in favor of taking this step in defense of their families."

The contemplated strike, they contend, becomes a necessary move for "self preservation."

Federation convention officials are giving deep consideration to the possibility of a railroad strike and the necessity of all branches of organized labor endorsing and aiding the proposed tie up.
